I. Scale Description

The Conflict Tactics Scales measure consists of 80 items developed by Straus (1979) to explore intrafamily conflict and violence, focusing particularly on the adults in the family. Of these 80 items, 20 are administered to the parent about his/her relationship with the child. The next 20 questions are directed to the parent about the partner and his/her interactions with the child. If there is no partner, these questions are not asked. The last 40 questions of the measure address the interactions between the parent and the parent's partner using the same questions. The measure assesses how the parent reacts in a conflict with the child, such as trying to discuss an issue calmly, yelling at or insulting the child, stomping out of the room or house, threatening to spank the child, and hitting or trying to hit the child. The items gradually become more coercive and aggressive as they progress. The items are rated on a seven-point scale, ranging from 0=never to 6=almost every day. Interviewers were also asked to answer the following question, "Has the parent had a partner in the past year?"

II. Report Sample

These analyses were conducted on the high-risk control (n=155) and the normative sample (n=387, n=463 including overlap) from the third year of administration of the study. Thirty-eight records were missing the complete measure. Of these, 13 were from the control sample (4 from Durham, 2 from Nashville, 3 from Pennsylvania, and 4 from Washington). Thirty-one records were missing from the normative sample (5 from Durham, 11 from Nashville, 7 from Pennsylvania, and 8 from Washington). These numbers may reflect some overlap between the two samples.

III. Scaling

This instrument has four scales: Parent-Child (Scale 1), Partner-Child (Scale 2), Parent-Partner (Scale 3), and Partner-Parent (Scale 4). The parent-child and partner-child conflict scales each have five subscales and the two parent-partner scales have four subscales each. The five subscales (Strassberg, Dodge, Bates, and Pettit, 1992; Strassberg, Dodge, Pettit, and Bates, 1994) are: verbal discussion, verbal aggression, hostile-indirect withdrawal, physical aggression, and spanking. The parent-partner and partner-parent scales do not include the spanking subscale.

Subscale scores were created by taking the mean for each set of variables for a given subscale. For this year of administration of the measure, data were collected only for the parent-child scale and for the partner-child scale. Cronbach's alphas for these subscales are reported in the table below:

Variable Name	Control	Normative
Verbal Discussion Scale 1	.66	.69
Verbal Aggression Scale 1	.61	.66
Physical Aggression Scale 1	.51	.54
Hostile-Indirect Scale 1	.53	.67
Spanking Scale 1	.82	.79
Verbal Discussion Scale 2	.57	.74
Verbal Aggression Scale 2	.63	.59
Physical Aggression Scale 2	.38	.62
Hostile-Indirect Scale 2	.52	.43
Spanking Scale 2	.77	.74

The reliability coefficients for several subscales indicated a lower reliability, ranging from 0.38 to 0.59. These subscales included: Physical Aggression Scale 1 (both samples), Hostile-Indirect Scale 1 (control sample), Verbal Discussion Scale 2 (control sample), Verbal Aggression Scale 2 (normative sample), Physical Aggression Scale 2 (control sample), and Hostile-Indirect Scale 2 (both samples). All of the other subscales showed an adequate reliability.

IV. Differences Between Groups

A series of t-tests indicated significant differences at the .05 level for 9 of the 10 scales. Means were higher for the control sample than for the normative sample for all of the subscales except for subscale Verbal Discussion Scale 2 (partner to child—verbal discussion).

A chi-square test of response frequency on whether the parent had had a partner in the past year indicated a significant difference between the normative and the control samples, with the parents in the control sample being more likely to have had a partner in the past year.

V. Recommendations for Future Use

Analysts should be aware of possible distributional issues; subscales for physical aggression (scale 1 and scale 2) and hostile-indirect withdrawal (scale 1 and scale 2) for both samples indicated floor effects, as well as for the spanking scale 2. Sixty percent of the normative sample and 49% of the control sample for Physical Aggression Scale 1 scored a zero and 82% of the normative sample and 69% of the control sample scored a zero for Physical Aggression Scale 2. For Hostile Indirect Withdrawal Scale 1, 56% of the normative sample and 38% of the control sample scored a zero, while, for Hostile Indirect Withdrawal Scale 2, 65% of the normative sample and 58% of the control sample scored a zero. While all of the spanking subscales were positively skewed, 50% of the normative sample and 33% of the control sample scored a zero for Spanking Scale 2.

In addition, it needs to be noted that one item (Does your partner beat up your child?) on Physical Aggression Scale 2 had a zero variation for both the normative and the control samples.
