I. Scale Description

The Shortened Relationship Conflict Tactics Scale measure is a revised version of the Conflict Tactics Scale (Strauss, 1979). The Shortened Relationship Conflict Tactics Scale is a 30-item measure specifically developed to assess conflict in romantic relationships. Fifteen questions are directed to the student about his/her current girlfriend/boyfriend. The other 15 questions are asked about the boyfriend's/girlfriend's behavior toward the student. The questions deal with how the couple has handled disagreements in the past year; two examples, for instance, are "I showed my boyfriend/girlfriend I cared for him/her even though we disagreed" and "I slapped my boyfriend/girlfriend." The violent and nonviolent behaviors are interspersed with one another and do not progress from less aggressive to more aggressive. The items are rated on a seven-point scale, ranging from zero "this has never happened" to 6 "more than 20 times in the past year." Respondents are also given the option to rate the behavior with a "P" to indicate that the behavior had occurred in the distant past, but not in the past year.

II. Report Sample

These exploratory analyses were conducted on the first cohort on the control sample ($n = 155$) and the normative sample ($n = 387, 463$ with overlap) from the thirteenth year of the study. Overall, 125 records were missing the complete measure. Fifty-three records were missing from the control sample (8 from Durham, 19 from Nashville, 11 from Pennsylvania, and 15 from Washington) and 107 records were missing from the normative sample (17 from Durham, 41 from Nashville, 20 from Pennsylvania, and 29 from Washington). These numbers may reflect some overlap between the two samples.

III. Scaling

This instrument has eighteen scales, nine that reflect how the student behaved toward his/her current boyfriend/girlfriend and nine that reflect how the student's boyfriend/girlfriend behaved toward the student. Six of these scales reflect behaviors that occurred during the past year, while another six scales reflect behaviors that occurred in the distant past but NOT in the past year. Finally the last six scores contrast whether the behaviors had never occurred versus having occurred at sometime during the student's lifetime.

The response choice "P" was treated in two ways, in order to ensure a comprehensive look at the data. First, because a choice of "P" indicates that the behavior did not occur in the past year, the response choice of "P" was recoded to zero. These variables have an "r" in the variable name to indicate that they were recoded. Scales were then created to reflect behaviors that had occurred in the past year. Then, new dichotomous variables were created to capture data about previous violence that had occurred prior to the past year, such that the behavior had or had not occurred in the distant past. These variables had a "P" added to the variable's name.

Finally, additional dichotomous (never or sometime) variables were created to examine the events as having happened over the course of the student's lifetime. Responses that were zero were coded as "0" for having never occurred. All other responses, whether they were "P" or 1 through 6, were coded as "1" for having occurred at sometime in the student's lifetime. The items were given an "X" in their name. The scales were then created to reflect events that had occurred in the student's lifetime.

The scales were as follows: Physical Aggression—Student (12r, 14r, 18r, 20r, 22r, 28r, 30r, 36r), Verbal Aggression—Student (10r, 24r, 34r), Verbal Discussion—Student (8r, 16r, 26r, 32r), Previous Physical Aggression—Student (p12, p14, p18, p20, p22, p28, p30, p36), Previous Verbal Aggression—Student (p10, p24, p34), Previous Verbal Discussion—Student (p8, p16, p26, p32), Lifetime Physical Aggression—Student (x12, x14, x18, x20, x22, x28, x30, x36), Lifetime Verbal Aggression—Student (x10, x24, x34), Lifetime Verbal Discussion—Student (x8, x16, x26, x32), Physical Aggression—Partner (13r, 15r, 19r, 21r, 23r, 29r, 31r, 37r), Verbal Aggression—Partner (11r, 25r, 35r), Verbal Discussion—Partner (9r, 17r, 27r, 33r), Previous Physical Aggression—Partner (p13, p15, p19, p21, p23, p29, p31, p37), Previous Verbal Aggression—Partner (p11, p25, p35), Previous Verbal Discussion—Partner (p9, p17, p27, p33), Lifetime Physical Aggression—Partner (x13, x15, x19, x21, x23, x29, x31, x37), Lifetime Verbal Aggression—Partner (x11, x25, x35), and Lifetime Verbal Discussion—Partner (x9, x17, x27, x33). All of the scales were created by taking the mean of the items in the scale.

Cronbach's alphas were calculated for these scales and are reported in the table below:

Most of the scales showed an adequate level of reliability for both the normative and control samples. However, two scales showed a slightly lower level of reliability: Previous Verbal Discussion—Student (normative sample only), Lifetime Verbal Aggression (both samples), Previous Verbal Discussion—Partner (normative sample only), Lifetime Verbal Aggression--Partner (both samples), and Lifetime Verbal Discussion—Partner (normative sample only).

IV. Differences Between Groups

A series of t-tests did not indicate significant differences between the control and normative samples for any of the scales.

V. Recommendations for Use

Several of the scales indicated floor effects. The scales dealing with the student's behavior that showed floor effects were:

- Physical Aggression—Student: 73% of the normative sample and 84% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Verbal Aggression—Student: 43% of the normative sample and 49% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Previous Physical Aggression—Student: 98% of the normative sample and 99% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Previous Verbal Aggression—Student: 99% of the normative sample and 97% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Previous Verbal Discussion—Student: 92% of the normative sample and 86% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Lifetime Physical Aggression—Student: 71% of the normative sample and 84% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Lifetime Verbal Discussion—Student: 63% of the normative sample and 53% of the control sample scored a “1”, the highest possible score.

The scales dealing with the student's partner's behavior that showed floor effects were:

- Physical Aggression—Partner: 79% of the normative sample and 84% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Verbal Aggression—Partner: 43% of the normative sample and 51% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Previous Physical Aggression—Partner: 98% of the normative sample and 97% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Previous Verbal Aggression—Partner: 99% of the normative sample and 97% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.

- Previous Verbal Discussion—Partner: 92% of the normative sample and 90% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Lifetime Physical Aggression—Student: 77% of the normative sample and 82% of the control sample scored a zero, the lowest possible score.
- Lifetime Verbal Discussion—Student: 61% of the normative sample and 54% of the control sample scored a “1”, the highest possible score.

Analysts should note that item 7 (how long have you been together?) is an open-ended response question that is not included in analyses for this report.

Most of the items and scales are straightforward in use and interpretation. The high internal consistency for most of the scales suggests that these scales should be useful in studying conflict in romantic relationships for couples.
